

The Annual Report to the Randolph County Commissioners

The Randolph County Cemetery Commission

March 1, 2007

The following report is required by IC 23-14-67-4 and the Commission's By-Laws.

In 2006, the Commission's budget was $15,000. The Cabin Creek Cemetery south of Farmland was restored by Stone Saver Cemetery Restoration at a cost of $2,485. Stonehugger Cemetery Restoration restored approximately one-half of the Hoover Cemetery located south of Union City at a cost of $12,515. The Commission worked with the restoration companies and Monisa Wisener to provide as much documentation as possible on the two cemeteries. The Randolph County Historical Museum is the repository for all of the documentation.

Many pioneer cemeteries in Randolph County have been investigated by Commission members over the last two years. There is much work to be done.

The budget for 2007 is $20,000.

$12,315 will be used to finish the Hoover Cemetery.

$ 5,970 will be used to restore the White River Church Cemetery located south of Farmland.

$ 1,715 will be used for a very small restoration project yet to be determined or signs and fences.

Members of the Commission periodically inspect restoration work as it is being done to it make sure that the work is following the specifications and agreements. The Commission also works with the township trustees and property owners.

The Commission continues to meet on the second Thursday of the month at 6:30 P.M. at the Randolph County Historical Museum located at:
416 South Meridian Street
Winchester, IN 47394
